

SHOW ME THE MONEY:
Legal and Ethical Implications of Working with For-Profits

AAM Museum Conference
May 2, 2009

(originally presented at the PFHMO Statewide Conference
April 22, 2007)

Walter G. Lehmann

LEHMANN STROBEL PLC

LEGAL AND BUSINESS AFFAIRS

Session Topic

- In this session we will discuss what steps museums can and should take to make the most of corporate sponsorship opportunities without compromising core institutional values.

Introduction

- Branding and Marketing opportunities and other forms of business support present benefits as well as consequences requiring careful consideration.

Introduction

- Museum staff need to know how to properly structure donor, sponsorship and advertising arrangements with for-profit companies.

Introduction

- Museum staff should be familiar with internal museum policies and with museum association guidelines.

The Funding Pie

The Funding Pie

- Increasing competition among museums and from other charities
- Shift away from government to individuals, foundations and businesses
- Corporate financial support grew from under 19% in 1989 to over 35% in 2005

The Corporate Pie

The Corporate Pie

- ◉ Shift from corporate philanthropy to corporate marketing sponsorships -- “strategic philanthropy”
- ◉ Corporate dollars come from marketing budgets
- ◉ “Quid pro quo”
- ◉ Dealing in a “business-like” manner

Show Me the Money

- In the film “Jerry McGuire” an unhappy sports agent writes a personal mission statement and decides to leave a soulless sports agency to become an independent agent.
- McGuire loses all but one client.
- His client coaches him to “show me the money.”

Show Me the Mission

- The moral of “Jerry McGuire is that the pursuit of financial success does not need to be incompatible with mission and values, but it should be second place to them.

Challenges

- Can Museum successfully pursue corporate sponsorships while remaining true to its mission and values?

Challenges

"She then went and threw back the curtain, when she was much surprised to see how oddly her grandmother looked in her night-clothes."

Challenges

- Are corporations always the Big Bad Wolf?

Challenges

Challenges

- ◉ Or are corporations more like the Frog Prince?

The Key

*This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.*

Polonius' advice to his son
Hamlet, Act 1, Scene 3

The Key

- Remain true to Museum mission

Legal Considerations

Legal Considerations

- There are few statutory or contractual constraints to sponsorship relationships.

Legal Considerations

- Trust law imposes duties of care, loyalty and obedience.
- Positive fiduciary duty to seek adequate funding
- Duty to remain true to mission
- Duty of due diligence in carrying out responsibilities
- Duty of loyalty requires avoiding conflicts of interest

Legal Considerations

- State and federal laws regulate the acquisition and use of charitable contributions for lobbying and political campaigns.

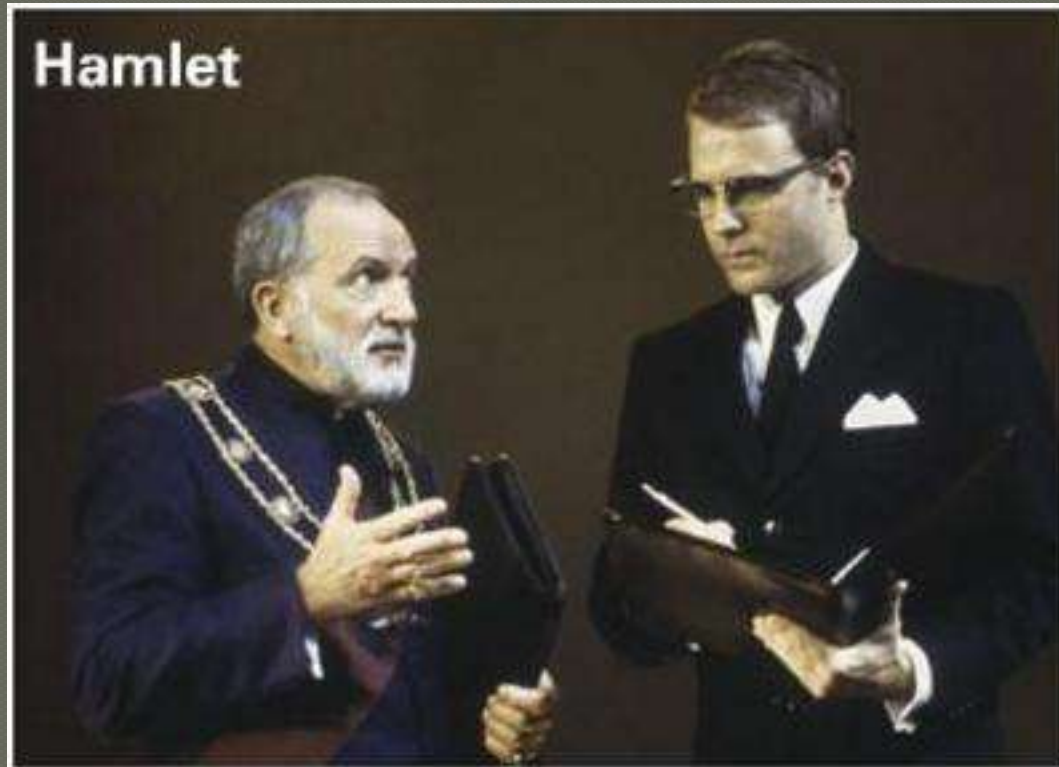

Legal Considerations

- Corporate sponsorships may involve tax considerations.
- Federal tax laws on unrelated business income (UBIT)
 - Substantial benefit (2% or $75)
 - Acknowledgement vs. advertising
 - Value neutral descriptions
 - Website links
 - Handing out samples

Legal Considerations

- ⦿ Accounting for corporate sponsorships must follow GAAP principles.

Ethical Considerations

Ethical Considerations

- ◉ Be true to mission
- ◉ Be true to Museum
 - Protect reputation
 - Protect brand
- ◉ Protect curatorial functions
 - Retain control of exhibit content
 - Protect collection

Ethical Considerations

- ◉ AAM Guidelines for Museums in Developing and Managing Business Support
 - Acknowledges mutual benefits of museum-business relationships
 - Each museum must draft its own policies on business support

Ethical Considerations

◉ AAM Guidelines (continued)

- Individual Museum policies must:
 - Comply with the law
 - Be consistent with the Museum's mission, policies and procedures
 - Maintain control over content and integrity of programs and activities
 - Uphold the duty of loyalty – avoid conflicts of interest
 - Be transparent – confidentiality agreements?

Ethical Considerations

- Individual museum policies should:
 - Reflect individual museum's mission, values and objectives
 - Define processes for making decisions
 - Establish conflict of interest policies
 - Explain any excluded uses (tobacco, alcohol)
 - Set standards for use of museum brands and logos
 - Address exclusivity issues
 - Prohibit “quid pro quos” (Vendor relationships must not be dependent on donations)
 - Include procedures for terminating the relationship (bankruptcy, scandals can harm museum reputation)

Self Evaluation

- Properly done, developing a policy on corporate sponsorships is the first step in the self evaluation process.
- Establish sponsorship objectives and goals
- Assess museum needs
- Inventory Museum assets
- Pricing – not needs based but market-driven

Understanding the Market

- ◉ Corporations fund through marketing budgets (timing of “ask”)
- ◉ Focus on changing demographics

Understanding the Market

- Sponsorship evaluation criteria
 - Tangible benefits
 - Long-term value
 - Ability to reach target audience and build relationships
 - Positive exposure for corporate brand
 - Potential for leverage with additional resources
 - Potential for long-term, sustainable partnership

Understanding the Market

- ◉ Identifying sponsorship partners
 - Compatibility
 - Mutual benefits

Understanding the Market

◉ Developing the relationship

- Networking and personal contact
- Identifying the decision makers
- Explaining advantages/benefits to company
 - In business terms
 - What the Museum can offer
- Stages in corporate giving (“Contribution Continuum”)
- May start with a donation, grow into an alliance

Understanding the Market

- ◉ Developing strategic alliances
 - Ask why the business is making the donation
 - Discuss how to develop the relationship

Finalizing the Deal

Finalizing the Deal

- Importance of putting sponsorship agreement in writing
 - Manage expectations
 - Establish what will be exchanged
 - Express values
 - Anticipate problems
 - Adopt procedures

Finalizing the Deal

- ◉ What can go wrong?
 - Misunderstandings (verbal promises)
 - Changed circumstances
 - Due diligence – look for a record of performance

Finalizing the Deal

○ Basic terms of a Corporate Sponsorship Agreement

- Binding contract
 - Offer, acceptance and consideration
 - Verbal contracts
- Program description
- Contribution of sponsor
- Acknowledgement/credit
- Exclusivity

Finalizing the Deal

- Basic terms (continued)
 - Other benefits
 - Museum access
 - Use of Museum brand and logo
 - First look at future opportunities
 - Sponsor-generated publicity
 - Cancellation and termination
 - Program is cancelled
 - Corporation doesn't perform
 - Force Majeure
 - Other reasons
 - Counter to mission
 - Damaging to museum reputation

Finalizing the Deal

◎ Basic terms (continued)

- Confidentiality provisions – suitable for museums?
- Charitable contribution documentation
- Indemnities
- Authorized representatives

Finalizing the Deal

- ◉ Managing the relationship
- ◉ Evaluation and feedback
 - More than just “thank you”
 - Building trust – demonstrate value
- ◉ Taking the relationship to the next level
- ◉ Reassess Museum needs and company wants walt@lehmannstrobels.com

Is your museum living in the past?

Intellectual Property Asset Management
Non-Profit Administration & Board Governance
Employment & Volunteer Management
Museum Policies & Ethics

LEHMANN STROBEL^{PLC}

LEGAL AND BUSINESS AFFAIRS

lehmannstrobels.com